

The king was overjoyed and gave orders to lift Daniel out of the den. And when Daniel was lifted from the den, no wound was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

MO Ranch Men's Conference

It was with great excitement I got to attend the Men's Conference again this year with an outstanding group of guys from FPCA. As I shared in worship, 8 guys went last year, 9 guys went this year, so clearly, we need to hit double digits next year!

We had an outstanding BBQ detour on the way down. We ate at Interstellar BBQ in north Austin – most recently ranked the #2 bbq joint in all of Texas by Texas Monthly. On my tray you will see some sliced lean brisket, peach tea glazed pork belly, a lamb jam taco, and a sorghum glazed barbecue duck leg! Where else do you ever see duck at a BBQ restaurant? And some cream corn and banana pudding topped it all off. It was well worth not taking the most direct route to MO.

Even though the rain put a bit of a damper on some of the conference (for example, Dave Humphry's pickleball workshop was moved inside and there was no worship at the Chapel on the Hill), we made the best of it. It's rare that on any given Sunday, this group of 9 guys would ever be sitting around a table, or that a group of us would be hanging out and talking until 1am or so. That's what makes conferences like this so special. And it's why we want all the men in our church to have this kind of experience next year, May 2-4. If you are interested in securing a spot, or would just like to ask questions, please reach out to me or any of the great guys in this picture.

Pastor Chris

MONTHLY OVERVIEW

GOD VIEW :

THE CONNECTION BETWEEN JOY AND GOD'S CHARACTER, AS SHOWN THROUGH GOD'S BIG STORY

Choose joy! This may be a commonly used phrase you've heard, but what does it actually mean? Joy is more than being excited about the good things that happen to us. Joy is an attitude—a decision to trust God no matter what is going on in our lives. From the very beginning, God had a plan for the world. As we dive into the Bible, we'll discover God's plan for us and how God has been at work through it all. When we see and celebrate what God is doing, we can find true joy!

WEEK ONE	BIBLE STORY The Story of the Lost Sheep Luke 15:1-7	BOTTOM LINE We can have joy because of Jesus.
WEEK TWO	BIBLE STORY Feast of Booths Deuteronomy 16:13-17	BOTTOM LINE Make a habit of choosing joy.

WEEK FOUR	BIBLE STORY Joy in the Psalms Psalms 8, 16, and 19	BOTTOM LINE Find joy in what you see around you.
WEEK FIVE	BIBLE STORY God Will Give Us Joy Habakkuk 3:17-18	BOTTOM LINE There's always a reason to celebrate.

5 Ways to Connect With Other Parents This Summer

by Holly Crawshaw

Have you ever been sitting in a room, staring at a television, following along with its plot with more than a little interest, only to realize you're watching a Bubble Guppies episode that you've seen fifty-seven times?

It happens.

Sometimes, we can get so lost in the phase our kids are in that we forget what phase we're in. Yes, we are parents. But we're also adults who are wired to connect relationally with other adults. It's not just a want. It's a physiological need.

With Covid restrictions lessening, how about we all agree to “grow up” a little this summer? (Or at least agree to hang out with people our own age from time to time?)

Here are five ways to connect with other parents this summer:

- Take a class. Wanna brush up on those salsa dancing skills? Learn to cook Italian food? Take a primitive survival course? There's no time like the present. Learning new skills or improving old ones is a great way to meet other people in your area. Plus, lots of communities offer summer courses through their parks and recreation programs at discounted rates.
- Take a health and wellness challenge. Before you skip to the next suggestion, hear me out. You don't necessarily have to go to a gym or bench press your own body weight to focus on your health and wellness. Maybe it's a Facebook group you join on nutrition. Maybe it is a summer-long contest at your fitness center. All you need to know is that you won't be the only parent in the group feeling nervous or insecure.
- Hit up the same place at the same time each week. Even in the summertime, a lot of parents have certain routines. By going to the same place at the same time every week, you're likely to find another family on your schedule. A neighborhood pool, a park, an indoor playground. Yes, you may actually have to take the first step in introducing yourself. (Which somehow feels way harder as an adult than it did in first grade.) But the reward could be the grown-up connection you need in your life!
- Teach something. What are you good at? Come on. There's something you know how to do that other people don't. Whether it is how to budget down to the last cent in Excel or how to in-line roller skate—there's a skill you have that other adults want! Plan a day and invite some folks to come learn from you. Better yet, ask those adults to schedule other days to teach you and the others what they know.
- Try an app. There's an app for everything these days. Even apps for meeting other parents. Apps like Meetup, Moms MeetUp, Mom Life, Peanut, and Hello Mamas are just a few. You can also try out parent groups found on Facebook. But . . . just like you'd tell your kids . . . be safe.

You may not have a ton of “alone” time on your hands. You might not even have any. But now, more than ever, there are digital avenues you can take to connect with people your own age.

Don't get lost in the "parenting phase" forever. You're still you—an individual, separate from your kids or partner. And I could list a thousand ways for you to connect with other adults. But none of it matters if you don't make a move.

Trust me—other parents are feeling the same concerns and anxieties you are.

Do something different. It's worth it. You're worth it!

Blessings,

Adrian

Youth & Children's Musical "Rescue in the Night"

You're invited to attend FPCA's youth and children's musical, "Rescue in the Night" depicting the story of Daniel and the lion's den. The free performance is Saturday, June 8th at 2:30 in the FPCA sanctuary and should end by 3:15. This year's musical features performers entering 1st through 10th grades, including several church members as well as some youth and children from the community. Please make plans to attend to support these fantastic young performers in their show and in their faith journey!

Prayer

I love to tell the story/Of unseen things above,
Of Jesus and his glory/Of Jesus and his love.

Whenever we do tell or hear the story of unseen things above, it will always be the story of Jesus and his love.

Our church has set aside each third Sunday morning of the month to give a little time to the prayer ministry team to tell a "prayer witness"--or witness to prayer or simply a part of the story of God with us--when God has met the rubber on the road of our lives.

I love to tell the story/It did so much for me;
And that is just the reason I tell it now to thee.

Our purpose? To expand the sight of all of us to what God has done in one life. And to expand the sight of us all to what God has done and is doing in our own lives.

I love to tell the story/For some have never heard
The message of salvation/From God's own holy Word.

Maybe we discern God in our own lives through God's presence with us in trouble. Or by God's rescuing us out of trouble. Or by God's empowering us to persevere or grow stronger through our troubles. However we discern God in our own lives draws us closer to God and to "the message of salvation from God's own holy Word."

We hope you look forward to each "prayer witness." If you'd like to give your own witness, please contact Ron Macleod or Jim Shroyer.

I love to tell the story/Twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story/of Jesus and his love.

Respectfully yours,
The Prayer Team

Looking for Volunteers

If you are interested in an area of service at the church and could be present one hour a week or twice a month please contact Bob Watkins by text (817-360-2841) or email (businesswatkins@aol.com) to learn more or leave your number at the church office. The volunteerism has to do with restoring order to the pew racks between services. This could also be a great opportunity for our youth during summer break.
